Noted Speaker Will Give H. S. Graduation Talk

Charles Milton Newcomb
Will Speak at 29th Commencement, Friday

"How to Be Happy Though Educated," is the theme upon which Charles Milton Newcomb, well known lecturer, will speak at the twenty-ninth graduation program of Antioch Township High school, at which 45 students will receive their diplomas Friday evening.

Newcomb was head of the department of public speaking in a large university when he became interested in the Cleveland Industrial association, a pioneer attempt to study relations between employers and employees, and became its executive secretary.

He was for a time editor of the industrial relations magazine, "Co-operation."

Groups before which he has lectured include the Cadet corps at West Point, the Executives' club of Chicago, the Milwaukee Safety school (4000 foremen and executives) and other leading school groups, clubs and organizations.

It was because of a vacancy in his schedule for a series of talks he is giving in the Chicago area this week that Antioch High school was able to secure his services as a commencement speaker, T. R. Birkhead, principal, states.

Details of the program, which will open at 8:30 o'clock and the list of graduates are published elsewhere in this issue of the Antioch News.

Baccalaureate Services

How tact and an understanding of human nature will often smooth the way through life's difficult situations was touched upon by the Rev. L. H. Messersmith, pastor of the Millburn Congregational church at the baccalaureate services Sunday evening in the high school auditorium.

The Rev. John DeVries, pastor of the Lake Villa Community church, gave the invocation and benediction.

Music included "The Lord's Prayer," Malotte, by Myrtle Hardtke, soprano, and "Sanctus," Guonod, sung by Idal Maier, soprano. A Bach processional, and a recessional by Elgar were played by Hans Von Holwede.

Around the Resorts

The Waukegan-North Chicago Girl Scout camp at the east end of Long lake will open its summer season June 24.

Members of the Antioch fire department and Rescue squad were guests of Rose and Louis Nielsen and their partners, Helen and Joe Sterbenz, at a venison dinner the evening of Monday, May 22, at Nielsen's Corners.

A program of "magic" by Jack Staley, Great Lakes, was enjoyed during the evening. Jack, who at one time tended bar at the Henning Johnson resort on Deep lake, is quite a fisherman and well known in the lakes area.

Mary and Al Girard are inviting their friends to attend their "First Anniversary" party Saturday evening, June 3, at their resort on Grass lake. There will be music and refreshments.

Proving a popular feature at Steitz' resort on Bluff lake are the speed boat rides... with Mr. and Mrs. John Steitz' little son occasionally acting as honorary "skipper" and mascot.

Mrs. Edward P. Dressel of Lake Marie has returned home from Victory Memorial hospital, where she underwent a major operation several weeks ago.

Proving popular these days is the taxicab service Louis Kempf has been operating during the past several months. An announcement of his 24-hours-a-day service is published elsewhere in this issue.

Carl Helgesen and Thor Thornness are inviting their friends to attend the "smorgasbord" which will be a feature of their Grand Opening, Saturday evening and Sunday afternoon, at Fishermen's Paradise, Loon Lake. Fisherman's Paradise, formerly Cornak's has been making a specialty of serving Sunday breakfasts and dinners which have already won the favorable notice of vacationists.

The Temple club of Waukegan held the first of its seasonal outings at Chain O'Lakes Country club Saturday.

Tax Bills to Be Mailed June 15

Due to the delay of the Tax Commission in certifying the Railroad valuations to County Clerks, the preparation of 1943 Collector's books has been delayed and the books will not be turned over to County Treasurer Gustaf H. Fredbeck until June 1st.

Fredbeck states that the tax bills will be mailed by June 15th and that the penalty date has been extended to July 15th, after which a 1% penalty per month will be added, until paid.

Because of the delay in the preparation of the books, the various Town Collectors will not receive the books for collection and all taxes must be paid direct to the County Treasurer, at the Court house in Waukegan. Fredbeck has, however, completed arrangements with the local banks in order to avoid unnecessary wartime driving and tax payments will be accepted at The First National Bank and the State Bank of Antioch.

News of the Boys in Service

Lt. E. A. Knickelbein, Jr., arrived home last week to spend a 12-day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Knickelbein of Herman's resort, Bluff lake. He was accompanied by his wife, the former Virjean Hook. Lt. Knickelbein has been stationed at Jackson, Miss., where he recently received his "wings."

LEONARD ROBLIN

ENTERS AIR CORPS
Leonard Roblin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Roblin, left Saturday for Fort Sheridan to enter on his enlistment in the U. S. Army Air corps.

Roblin, who is a member of the Class of 1944, which will be graduated from Antioch Township High school Friday evening, qualified for enlistment in examinations taken in Chicago last winter, before he reached his eighteenth birthday anniversary.

During the past four years he has been employed in the printing department of the Antioch News.

First Lieut. W. Russell is here from Texas this week to visit Miss Jeanette Bullis and is a house-guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Homer LaPlant.

NEPHEW OF ANTIOCH

WOMAN RECEIVES MEDAL

Mrs. Barney Trieger has received word that her nephew, Cleo Darby, AM 3/c, has been awarded the Order of the Purple Heart at the U. S. Naval Air station, Corpus Christi, Tex., for "outstanding service beyond the call of duty."

Darby recently returned from 17 months' duty with the Pacific fleet, participating in engagements that included the Coral Sea, Midway and Solomons. He sustained six shrapnel wounds.

A destroyer aboard which he served was one of those escorting the U. S. S. aircraft carrier Hornet and General Jimmy Doolittle's Tokyo raiders to the point about 800 miles from the Japanese coast from which the planes took off.

When his ship was sunk off Guadalcanal, Darby drifted in the ocean for three days and four nights in a life jacket.

Darby is a son of William Darby, formerly of Antioch and now of Akron, Colo.

Women are needed for assignment to thousands of jobs in more than 100 categories, Women's Army Corps Lt. Nell Breeden, Illinois recruiting officer, states.

Air force jobs open to WACs include work as meteorologists, radio operators, weather observers, air field control tower operators, mechanics and office workers. Air WACs now are serving at Army Air Forces installations all over the world. WACs assigned to the Air Transport Command may select their own ATC stations either in the United States or in any of the several theaters of war where ATC outposts are located.

Another category for which WACs are now being recruited is for Signal Corps assignment. Tabulating machine operators, cryptographic clerks, cryptanalysts and key punch operators, women who are expert touch typists, or who have a knowledge of foreign languages probably can be assigned directly to these jobs without additional schooling after completion of their basic training. Advanced schooling in mathematics also will be an asset for some of the Signal Corps assignments.

Fire Damages Lasco Home Memorial Day

Kerosene Stove Starts Blaze
Resulting in Loss Figured at $1,000

A fire originating from a kerosene stove caused damages estimated at $1,000 to the family residence on the old Lasco homestead, State Line road, Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. None of the loss was covered by insurance.

The fire was discovered by Mrs. Hulda Lasco, owner, on her return to the kitchen after stepping into the yard for a few minutes.

She was unable to extinguish the blaze, and after vainly attempting to do so, she summoned her sons Bebe and William from the fields where they were working and a call was put in to the Antioch fire department.

Had Gained Headway
Bringing its No. 1 engine, which carries 500 gallons of water, and its 1,000 gallon tank truck, the fire department had the blaze under control within an hour, although it had gained considerable headway in the dry woodwork and timbers before the firemen arrived.

The Antioch Rescue squad, which accompanies the fire trucks on calls outside of the city limits, also responded.

The building was one which had been purchased by the Lasco family when an earlier dwelling house on the homestead burned about 35 years ago and had been moved to its present site from across the road and remodeled at that time.

West Point and Annapolis Exams Set for July 29

Antioch Is Announced as One of 12 Lake Co. Examination Centers

Congressman Ralph E. Church, 10th District, Illinois, announced today that he has been called upon by the Navy and War Departments to make appointments to Annapolis and West Point. The 19th District will have three vacancies at the Naval Academy and two vacancies at the Military Academy for admission in 1945.

In order to give the young men interested in these appointments equal opportunity to qualify, Cong. Church announces that he will hold his annual competitive examination of all candidates under the auspices of the Civil Service commission on Saturday, July 29. He has arranged with the commission for the examinations to be held in Cook county at Chicago, Evanston, Glenview, Morton Grove, Northbrook, Skokie, Wilmette, and Winnetka; and in Lake county at Antioch, Barrington, Deerfield, Grayslake, Highland Park, Highwood, Lake Forest, Libertyville, Mundelein, North Chicago, Ravinia, Waukegan and Zion.

All candidates must be actual residents of the 10th district, of sound physical health and good moral character. Those competing for the Annapolis appointments must be not less than 17 nor more than 21 years of age on April 1, 1945, and those interested in the West Point appointments must be not less than 17 (or 19 if from the Army of the United States) nor more than 21 on July 1, 1945.

Letters of application to take the competitive examination should be addressed to Congressman Ralph E. Church, House of Representatives, Washington, D. C. The applicant should designate where it would be most convenient for him to take the examination.

Candidates temporarily absent from the Tenth District may be examined elsewhere, at such examination points where the Civil Service Commission maintains an office and examiner.

Letters of application must be postmarked before midnight, June 18.

NEW HONOR ROLL AT

LAKE VILLA ADMIRER

A new Honor Roll sign which has been erected at Lake Villa to replace the former one has been attracting many admiring comments. The names on the new sign can be adjusted to allow for additions in their proper alphabetical sequence. Lettering was done by Frank Huber of Antioch.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Dolar for the holidays were Mr. and Mrs. J. Dolar of Berwyn, Mr. and Mrs. L. Dolar of Cicero.

She was born at Millburn on March 25, 1859, and was one of the seven children of the late Robert and Jemima Smart, Lake county pioneers. Those who have preceded her in death include Mrs. John Bain, Mrs. C. W. Kendall and Mrs. James Trestall of Waukegan.

Auto Use Stamps to Be on Sale June 10

Carter H. Harrison, Collector of Internal Revenue, announced today that auto use tax stamps in the denomination of $5.00 will be placed on sale in all postoffices, in the main office of the Collector of Internal Revenue, and in all division offices on Saturday, June 10. The stamps will evidence payment of the tax for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1944, and must be purchased on or before that date. The stamps will be serially numbered. They will be gummed on the face, and will have provision on the back for entry of the make, model, serial number, and state license number of the vehicle.

Mr. Harrison said that, to guard against loss or theft, it has been suggested that, when affixing the stamps, the vehicle owner should dampen the windshield rather than the adhesive side of the stamp. This method has been recommended to keep the stamp intact upon the windshield. As an additional precaution, it is also suggested that each motor vehicle owner should make a record of the serial number which appears on the use tax stamp for protection in the event the stamp should become lost.

An automobile fire, believed to have been caused by an overheated engine, brought a call for the Antioch fire department this afternoon at 2 o'clock. The car, owned by Walter Scott of Kenosha, was driven by his son, Roger, of Zion, and was being driven on Highway 173 a mile east of Antioch when it caught fire.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dawson, Dayton, Ohio, were guests of Mrs. Dawson's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Roberts, at Lake Marie during the week-end and Memorial Day.

Impressive Rites Pay Tribute To Departed Veterans

Major Daiger of Fort Sheridan Is Memorial Day
Speaker Here

Preceded with a colorful parade of patriotic and civic organizations, an impressive Memorial Day program was held in the Antioch village park Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, under the auspices of American Legion Post No. 748.

Major John Gerard Daiger of Fort Sheridan, a veteran of World War I, was the principal speaker paid tribute to the men who have served this country in all past conflicts as well as the present war.

He was introduced by John L. Horan, Tenth district vice-commander of the Legion.

The service opened with the singing of "America" by the assembly, accompanied by Antioch Township High School band. Floyd W. Horton, commander of the Antioch Legion post, led in the "Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag."

Invocation was offered by the Rev. F. M. Flaherty, rector of St. Peter's Catholic church.

Otto S. Klass, Americanization officer of the American Antioch Legion post, gave a brief introductory talk.

The memorial welcome on behalf of the village was given by President George B. Bartlett. Patriotic selections by the band followed.

Place, Wreath
The roll call of departed comrades was read by Roman B. Vos, service officer of the Legion, and a wreath was placed on a symbolical Unknown Soldier's grave by the American Legion Auxiliary.

Prayer in memory of the departed comrades of the community was offered by the Rev. A. D. McKay, rector of St. Ignatius' Episcopal church.

An appropriate selection by the Sons of the Legion Drum and Bugle corps was followed with the address by Major Daiger, after which a thirty-second period of silence in tribute to the dead was observed.

The services closed with "The Star Spangled Banner" by the assembly and band, the benediction by the Rev. W. C. Henslee, pastor of the Antioch Methodist church, a memorial salute by the firing squad, and the sounding of "Taps" by Sammy Klass, trumpeter.

Organizations and groups taking part in the line of march in the parade included the Legion and Auxiliary, Sons of the Legion Drum and Bugle corps, veterans of past wars and men now in the armed services, the firing squad, village fire department, Antioch Rescue squad, the High School band, and additional groups and escorts.

Plans for Fifth War Loan Drive Continue

Plans for Antioch township's participation in the Fifth War Loan campaign commencing June 12 are getting well under way. Township Chairman Otto S. Klass announced today following a meeting of committee leaders last evening.

"It is hoped," Klass states, "that the township record in this drive will equal the fine showing made in previous drives."

Antioch township's quota has been announced as $89,000.

A quota of $45,000 has been set for Lake Villa.

Chicago Girl Suffers Broken Arm While Diving

Lois Kraemer, 17, of 6027 Eddy st., Chicago, who sustained a broken arm when she dived into the water while swimming at Channel Lake, figured in the sole Memorial Day mishap reported here by the Antioch Rescue squad.

Miss Kraemer, who was brought to the village fire station by friends, was met there by members of the rescue squad and taken to the office of Dr. Irving L. Breakstone, where her arm was examined by x-ray and set.

At Lake Villa, Walter Covington, 20, of 6214 Winthrop avenue, Chicago, sustained cuts and bruises when his automobile and another driven by R. I. Harsch, also of Chicago, collided at the intersection of Route 59 and Grand avenue. Covington was taken to the office of a physician at Fox Lake for treatment.

Legion members of the Antioch Post, with the Junior Drum & Bugle Corps will assist in the dedication service of the Round Lake Honor Roll on Sunday, June 4th, at 2 p. m.

The Inexhaustible Industry

Bituminous coal, source of half of the annual energy requirements of the United States, reached an all-time production peak of nearly 600,000,000 tons in 1943.

When manufacturing, transportation and utilities need fuel, they lean primarily on bituminous coal, and when industry increases production, demands for coal inevitably increase.

The coal supply of the United States is virtually inexhaustible within any period of reasonable estimates—2,000 to 4,000 years.

But in the face of the record of coal production and its abundant reserve, the industry has its problems. A considerable number of people believe that it is a decadent, dying industry, and that coal will be replaced by other fuels and sources of energy.

From a labor-political angle, it is susceptible to government investigations and seizure, as well as other outside interference. Many obstacles have discouraged cooperation on an industry-wide program because of the diverse ownership and scattered character of coal mining operations.

But in the face of problems and misunderstandings, the bituminous coal industry has made a fine start toward correcting erroneous impressions by making facts available for public information. Other industries have faced similar situations and whipped them. Joint action in public relations is something that all elements in coal should find it easy to accept, even though they might differ materially on other things.

Congress Is Human

The Congress of the United States, although individuals may try to circumvent it, is and will remain the most important assemblage of men and laws in the world today, shaping the destiny of democracy.

But momentous as it is, Congress is no collection of super men or brains set upon an Olympian peak. Its members are no better or worse than those of us who elect them; they have their headaches and heartaches, even stomach-aches, too. In short, they are humans.

Realization of this forms the theme of a pamphlet just issued by the National Association of Manufacturers to its 12,000 members who produce more than 80 per cent of our goods for war. "Too few businessmen know enough about Congress," the pamphlet says, "and too many know too little about it."

Pointing out that some 5,000 bills are being considered by 100 committees of Congressmen who are as bedeviled by doubts and stresses as the rest of us, the NAM pamphlet gives an indication of the terrific strain under which our solons work. And it might add that Washington in summertime could give cards and spades to the hot and humid tropics themselves!

What kind of man [or woman] would take a job like this?

HERE is a tough job. With long hours. No pay. And little thanks.

Yet many a man and many a woman is gladly giving up spare time to take it on.

This person is a Victory Volunteer. Starting June 12 he'll knock on your door or stop at your desk or your machine, swallow once or twice, and ask you to buy extra Bonds during this Fifth War Loan.

Why does he take the time to do it? Certainly it would be more pleasant to be sitting at home, smoking a pipe, reading a paper, or tending the garden.

But this Victory Volunteer is burning inside. He feels the crisis. He knows that now is the high point. Now is the agony. Now is the last turn of the screw. Now is the time to buy the Bonds you can't afford. The count is 3 balls and 2 strikes. The time is now. NOW!

So when the Victory Volunteer comes to you, welcome him. And buy double the amount of Bonds you bought last time! We've got to!

Will you be a Victory Volunteer?

Many patriotic men and women have already signed up to act as Victory Volunteers, but more are needed. As a Victory Volunteer, you will serve your country in one of the most important missions ever given to civilians in wartime. Spend an hour or two a day in your own neighborhood. The task is important—the rewards great, for you will have the satisfaction of helping America toward Victory. For full details go today to (local address). No obligation, of course.

Increased Use of Eggs Would Aid Production

Lake County poultrymen are asked by the government to produce approximately 2,279,900 dozen eggs this year, four per cent more than in 1943, as their part in the Food for Victory program, the National Poultry Defense committee announced today.

This county goal can best be reached if housewives take full advantage of the present egg surplus and plan more menus calling for greater use of eggs, thus encouraging farmers to maintain high production, declares Committee Secretary Leon Todd.

In urging poultrymen to meet the 1944 quota, Todd pointed out the current egg abundance may be followed by a serious shortage if farmers liquidate some of their laying flocks because of inability to dispose of eggs at profitable prices now.

Lake County 4-H Helps Purchase Army Ambulance

Although few Lake County 4-H club members may have an opportunity to attend the second 4-H Club ambulance presentation ceremony at Urbana, Ill., on July 5, they will have a chance to listen to the program over the air. A broadcast of the ceremony will be made over Radio station WILL, 580 kilocycles between 12:30 and 1:00 p. m. on Monday, June 5.

Capt. Steve Varner, former club leader and outstanding hero of World War II, will tell of his experiences in the African campaign and his escape from an enemy prison camp. Lt. Jean Linke, Army nurse, will relate interesting stories from the Australian and New Guinea Combat zones. Music by Chantelle Field and other features will be included.

Lake County 4-H Club members have a share in this ambulance which will be presented to the army since they contributed $50.00 at the 4-H Achievement meeting last November toward the purchase of the ambulance. Since that time the North Prairie 4-H Club led by George Connell contributed an additional $5.00 toward the ambulance fund. The Druce Lake Club led by Mrs. John Haisma and Mrs. Jacob Kaiser also sent in $3.00.

Ravenscroft Holsteins Are Studied for "Type"

E. H. Ravenscroft, Antioch, has had his herd inspected and classified for type, the Holstein-Friesian Association of America announces.

Among the animals classified in the Ravenscroft herd, two were designated "excellent"—the highest score an animal can receive; four were designated "very good"—the second highest possible score; and nine were designated "good plus," which is the third highest score.

This is the fourth time the Ravenscroft herd has been classified for type.

The type classification, combined with a production testing program, is used as a means of proving sires and locating outstanding blood cow families in an owner's herd.

campaign is confined almost exclusively to college women. Recruits should have college training and practical experience, if not actual degrees, in biology, geology, pharmacy, chemistry, business and psychology. Such women are assigned to hospitals, laboratories and other Army installations which such training is essential.

Inducted into the armed service recently from this area were Donald Eldredge Gibbs, Clarence John Verkest and Wilbur Clifford Turner, all of whom are fathers. Non-fathers inducted include Raymond William Lasco, Antioch, and Robert Bennecke, Lake Villa.

Pfc. Robert M. Hunt observes— "As you know, having an APO number cuts the news about 99 percent. I have been very lucky in meeting boys from home here. I have met Henry Quedenfeld, Bob Strang, Charles Anderson, Jim Nielsen, and just the other day I met up with Oliver Johnson. All the boys are in fine health.

"Oliver Johnson was surely surprised to see me over in England—as if I weren't to see him. Talked to him at least two good hours.

"Have stayed with Bob and Hank a couple of nights and have gone out with them and had a few beers, or what they call beer. Jim Nielsen is within 100 yards of me, so Antioch is well represented on our post.

"Hope this letter finds you in the best of health. Thanks for keeping the Antioch News coming, as it is a good morale booster."

Endures Frosts

Cabbage will stand several light frosts, so may be left in the ground for several weeks. Root crops are still more hardy and are best left in the ground till mid-November. Early harvest of these hardy crops and removal to storage, which is usually still too warm, causes most of the failure in trying to keep the crops for winter use by the family.

WILMOT

Union Free High School

Seventy-five couples danced to the music of the Silver Derby orchestra at the annual Junior prom at the gymnasium Friday evening. It was a very nice dancing party with a gaily decorated hall resembling a lawn. The grand march was led by the Prom king, Robert Baysinger, and the queen, Phyllis Panknin. Refreshments were served by members of the Junior class.

The U. F. high school baseball team defeated McHenry 15-4 and Elkhorn 14-7. The last game of the season was played at Wilmot Monday afternoon with the Zion team.

School was closed for the day, Decoration day.

Class night will be held at the gymnasium Tuesday, June 6. The class night exercises are open to the public without charge.

Commencement exercises will be held at the Wilmot gymnasium Thursday, June 8. The address of Welcome will be given by Eugene Roberts. All five honor students are to speak—Marvin Richter, Donald Richards, Jean Nelson, Loretta Huntoon and Colleen Andrews. The high school band will play the processional and recessional and selections during the program. Other musical selections will be given by the Girls' Chorus and the A Cappella choir. The address of the evening will be made by Prof. J. L. Gillan of the Wisconsin University. M. M. Schnurr, principal, will present the diplomas.

CHAPTER XX

"Presently the old sheep-rancher who took care of this shack and also ran the general store strolled over, and we began to talk.

"Had any trouble around here?" I asked him.

"No," he said. "Jap planes come over once in a while. Over here, sometimes over Wyndham and Port Hedland too, they say."

"What do you mean, once in a while?"

"The last one was just last night, since you mention it," he said. "Came over very high, early in the morning."

"It could only be a recon plane. I looked at this little field, loaded with Fortresses and Consolidated four-engine B-24's, plus some twin-engine stuff, Douglas and Lockheed's. The Dutch were using to evacuate. The Japs wouldn't waste time reconing it if they didn't have a carry, somewhere near. God knows we'd learned they were methodical—a recon plane and inevitably, within forty-eight hours, they'd hit."

"So at breakfast I mentioned it to the officer in charge of the field (a new man, just out from the States). 'Did you know, sir, the Japs had a recon plane over last night?' And went on to say that we had quite a bit of stuff here, and while of course the crews were terribly tired, maybe it should be moved out."

"He listened, and because I was on edge, his hesitation somehow annoyed me. But he finally said maybe I had a point there. And thinking about it, he finished his breakfast. I was glad when we got out of there after breakfast for Melbourne."

"You should have been glad," said Charlie Reeves, the bombardier, "because we were still in Broome that evening. The field was still loaded, all right, mostly Forts—all of them planes pulled out of Java. That night all but three of the Forts, including ours, pulled out for Melbourne. We had to stay and work on our brakes. But it was a setup for the Japs. I didn't like it a bit. Out behind the breakwater were a few big Dutch Catalina flying boats, loaded with women and children from Java. That night and very early next morning more came in."

"We worked most of the night on the brakes, and then went to sleep in that hangar shack. I slept fitfully—woke at five, to get an early start. It didn't seem healthy to me or to any of the rest of us. After a makeshift mess—hot beans and coffee plus field rations—we went out to the ship at six and stood by."

"Skiles had asked the officer in charge when he could take off. But he gave Skiles to understand we were evacuees just like the others. When we were given our passenger list, we could go."

"So we stood around the plane from six o'clock until 9:10, waiting for that list and those orders. At this minute Sergeant Britt happened to look up and hollered: 'Make a run for it, fellows—here come some Zeros!' Five of us who were standing back of the plane dropped into a hole about fifty feet away."

"One Zero peeled off and strafed the Fortress with incendiaries. It caught fire immediately, then the Zero went on down and strafed a B-24, setting it afire. Then it turned and, coming in directly over our hole from the rear, strafed them again. It repeated this six times, also firing a 20-millimeter cannon at us, which caved in our hole and covered us with dirt."

"When Sergeant Britt first hollered out, a big B-24 loaded with twenty-six people had just cleared the runway. When the Zeros hit, it was out over the ocean headed for Perth. It had hardly had time to pull its wheels up—and there was no room in there for them to swing a gun in their own defense—when a Zero caught up with it and dropped it in the sea."

"Two sergeants managed to get out. They swam for thirty-two hours, one of them giving up in sight of shore. The other told us what it had been like inside there when those bullets came smashing through that packed crowd, and a few seconds later when those dying and wounded were all struggling not to drown as the water came in."

"That day the Japs got another B-24 on the ground (it had been the one General Brett himself used), three Forts, a DC-3 and a DC-3, a Lockheed—but the worst were the nine Dutch flying boats they caught out in the harbor. About forty or fifty people were killed on them, mostly women and children."

"I saw one Dutchman swim ashore dragging his wife by the hair. The whole lower half of her face had been blown away and she was dead. I saw another woman standing on the wing of one of the planes which was burning. She had a child in her arms, and was ready to jump and swim ashore, when a cannon shot hit her in the back and broke her into halves. They both fell forward into the water; but the arms on the top half which held the child never let go of it."

"The men who were left were almost crazy with rage. One Zero was shot down by a Dutchman who stood in front of the hangar holding a .30-caliber machine gun across his arm. The gun got so hot it scorched right into his flesh, but he never noticed it. It turned out that Broome's anti-aircraft defense consisted of just this one .30-caliber gun. The Japs did the whole job in thirty minutes—didn't leave a thing."

"It was a hell of a mess. And how were we to get out? For all we knew, those Zeros might be working in advance of a Jap landing party, and all we had was that one .30-caliber."

"Finally the officer in charge told us: 'We expect planes in between now and midnight, but we don't know how many. We're compiling a priority list, but if your name isn't called by two o'clock, I advise you to get out of here quick, and the best way you can, even if you have to walk—and it's a long walk.'"

"He turned out to be right. I fooled around until 2:30 and then, when my name hadn't been called, nine of us decided we'd string along with a civilian contractor who'd offered us a lift. He had thirty men and five Ford trucks, and said he was headed south down the coast for the nearest town, called Port Hedland, two hundred miles away. The Army had some emergency rations hidden in the woods, so we helped ourselves to enough of those to keep us on the trip."

"Then I began to find out about Australia. Those guys are like our Westerners—pioneer types, except bigger. When we got twenty miles out of Broome the road ended entirely. After that—nothing at all. We had to push those trucks through sand, and make long detours around salt-water marshes. Even our drinking water had to be carried in the trucks. They talked about passing three ranches. We did, and I discovered they were the only three houses between Broome and Port Hedland. A million acres is nothing to an Australian. The country looks like West Texas, and is covered thinly with what they call gum trees. They're like eucalyptus in the States. The only sign of life was kangaroos—we'd see half a dozen a day. The little ones are called wallabies."

The only sign of life was kangaroos. We'd see half a dozen a day.

labies and the others are big blues. They hunch low and run through the scrubby gum trees. I got tired living out of cans, so I borrowed a gun and shot a big blue, and the Aussies showed me how to eat it. You throw away all but the tail, which you make soup of, and it tastes like thick chicken broth."

"If we were near a ranch we might see sheep, and we also shot some of these and ate them. The Australian law is that any traveler can kill a sheep for eating, but he must skin it and leave the hide on a fence post for the owner. I got my first bath in a river we ran onto twenty miles out of Port Hedland."

"Finally I got to Melbourne, where the Air Force was gathering again—and found they had me down as a deserter, but it wasn't any trouble getting that explained."

"I got out of Java by boat," said the Gunner. "They loaded us on a train at Jockstrap and took us to some town whose name I never did learn, where a Dutch freighter was waiting to take out fifteen hundred of us. They told us we were bound for Perth, a town in Southwest Australia—about the same location and size as San Diego in the States. Alongside us at the dock was a troopship of Aussies from Singapore. Before that they'd been in Egypt—hadn't been home for years. Their boat was bound for Adelaide, way round on the other side of Australia—same location as Miami. But lots of them lived in Perth. When they heard we were going there, they all skipped ship to come aboard with us. We divided our food and lent them our mess kits. They'd lost everything at Singapore. They probably caught hell for it, but they didn't give a damn."

"The first day out we sighted a Jap plane, but it stayed up for a while, watching us. We had stuck machine guns in the belaying-pole holes, and kept the soldiers hidden below decks so they wouldn't know we were carrying troops. Our gunners were hidden, too. But when this Jap started down to strafe, one of our gunners gave the show away by opening fire too soon—otherwise we would have got him."

"We zigzagged for five days, and then at Perth were loaded into a troop train for Melbourne. I was in the coach next the engine, and the Australians couldn't do too much for us. The engineer drew a can of hot water from his boiler and made us some tea out of his strictly rationed supply, apologizing because it wasn't stronger."

"I guess I was about the last one of us to arrive."

"Not by a couple of weeks you weren't," said Harry Schrieber, the navigator, indignantly. "Because what about me?"

"We weren't worried about you, Harry," said Frank with a grin. "We thought you were dead. Way back in the Philippines, when Jack Adams' plane didn't come back to Del Monte Field from that mission. We had given you up months ago. What had you been doing, anyway?"

"Trying to get out of the damned Philippines," said Harry. "And I didn't manage it until the day before General MacArthur did—the sixteenth of March I think it was."

"Harry was the last man to come," said Frank, "and now that the gang was together we could start doing business. You see Lieutenant General Brett, who had been commanding the United Nations Air Force under British General Wavell, who was supreme commander, needed a plane to take him around the war zone. His B-24 had been lost at Broome, remember. Colonel Eubank recommended me to General Brett as his personal pilot and senior air aide, and I selected the crew. Of course when it came to picking the plane itself, the General ordered a D, because all the E's with tail guns were needed for combat and he wanted those planes saved for the boys who would be going out on missions."

"But when it came to which D we would pick, it had to be the Swoose, because there was no other left. Every plane, even of the same model, handles a little differently. I'd flown our D's out from the States, through the Philippines and Java, and I've always felt the old Swoose was just a few miles faster and answered the controls a little more smoothly than the others."

"So now, as pilot and crew of the commanding Air Force General's plane, we in the Swoose were making weekly trips into the war zone from Headquarters far down in Melbourne, up to Darwin and Port Moresby, which were then far-flung outposts on the battle line. The General would average sixty hours a month in the air—thirty of them at least in this combat zone. To get him in and out of it, the Swoose often hit 150 air hours per month."

"At Moresby it was never safe to leave the Swoose on the ground by day. We'd sneak in at night, leave the General, and be off back to Townsville by dawn, coming in to pick him up again the next night. Sometimes the General would just have time to scramble aboard while we cleared the field as the alarm sounded. He was bound he wouldn't lose the Swoose."

"We now began to get a peek out over the top at the broad picture of this Far Eastern war. There were differences over strategy, but it was never Australians versus Americans. The cleavage was ground-minded versus air-minded thinking. The Australian air generals saw eye to eye with our American air leaders. Likewise the infantry generals of both armies thought alike."

"And there was much to the infantry-side of the argument. After Java fell, Australian civilians were panicky. Thousands of Australian boys had gone out to die in Africa and Singapore. Now the danger had suddenly rolled down on the Home-land. They wanted all the troops they could get right down there in that lower right-hand (southeast) corner of their continent, where ninety per cent of its population lives."

"Not in New Guinea, or Tulagi, or Guadalcanal, or even in Darwin, which, although on their own continent, is to the average Australian as remote as the Aleutians seem to New Yorkers. They think of Darwin as a tiny outpost separated from them by thousands of miles of impassable desert. They wanted the soldiers near the great cities of Sydney and Melbourne, where they could hear the marching and the military bands."

"This was also sound infantry strategy. The only populous parts of Australia are down in this southeast corner. We didn't yet have many battalions, supply problems were enormous, so our infantry generals agreed with theirs and with their civil leaders. They wanted to keep the army near valuable objectives, not scatter it out across seas and jungle islands, where supply problems would become formidable."

"But we of the Air Forces (both Australian and American) felt that to defend this continent we must build our fighter fields not in Australia itself, but on the outlying islands."

"We'd defended Java by pounding the Japs from Borneo. The Japs had not dared send their transports and landing barges through until they'd taken our advance bases and held air control over the Java Sea."

"The Australian Air Force was as anxious to move into this outlying island chain as we were. Early in April they'd wanted to seize Lae on New Guinea, before the Japs had had time to dig in on its north coast. At that time the Japs had only about four hundred men in the area, and it would have been easy."

"But we lacked the men and the ships—the Japs pressed on and presently took Tulagi in the Solomons, threatening our supply lines home."

Why you'll want a new modern range in your post-war kitchen

During wartime you've learned a lot about the benefits of vitamins. So, of course, when victory is won you'll want a modern range that makes vitamin-saving cooking easy. A range with efficient heat control to cook foods in little or no water... to cook foods in their own natural juices. And think of all the other features: Streamlined styling... automatic oven control... easy-to-use broiler... utility drawer. Indeed, you'll want a modern range to be the first step to your new post-war kitchen.
